

Creating a Therapeutic Home Environment to Help Your Child Heal (and Save Your Sanity)

A class for parents and caregivers of children with Attachment Disorder, Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), Bipolar Disorder, Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD/ADHD), Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder (OCD), Oppositional Defiant Disorder (ODD) and Asperger's Disorder

Presented by Laurie Brodeske, PhD
Licensed Clinical Psychologist (PSY 21931)
Behavior Specialist

Class Date	Location	Cost
Sat. April 3, 2010 9 AM – 5:30 PM 1-hour lunch on your own	Institute for Child and Family Development 1538 E. Warner Ave., Suite E Santa Ana, CA 92705 714-751-7790 See Web site for directions: www.icfd.net	$130/ person $195/couple Class size limited to 10

In this class you will learn:

- What a therapeutic home environment is, and why it is imperative to your child's progress
- How to put an end to power struggles and create a healthier dynamic
- How to set up a behavior management system that works, and how to keep it working

To register, complete and mail the following form, along with your check, to the Institute for Child and Family Development, 1538 E. Warner Ave., Suite E, Santa Ana, Ca 92705. Please make checks payable to the Institute for Child and Family Development.

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone and email address: _____

How many children are in your home? ____ What ages are they? _____

What diagnoses does/do your child/children have? _____

The biggest problem I'm having at home is _____